Air, Ambulance Needs Heard

Randall County commissioners Tuesday heard three pleas involving money and then adopted a budget of $1,218,610.45—some $51,000 more than the estimated income.

Public hearing was scheduled for the budget but no one showed up.

Eddie Knowles and Roland Black appeared in behalf of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce to ask for the county's help in retaining Can-Am Airport.

Knowles quoted Charles Allen, airport owner, as saying he would close Can-Am in six months and convert it into a trailer camp if he is unable to sell his interests there.

Knowles said an agreement has been reached whereby Can-Am can obtain additional land for longer runway facilities which would handle larger planes than have yet been able to land there.

Knowles said Allen and his associates have an investment in the airport of about $200,000.

"He'd like to sell out,"

Knowles told the court.

The court agreed that the airport is needed and discussed the possibility of federal funds to maintain the facility.

Knowles said he has not yet approached the city of Canyon on the subject.

"We certainly do not have enough money in the budget to take care of it," said County Judge Carroll Brown.

"It would take a bond issue," agreed Commissioner Glen Dowlen.

Col. E.L. Booch, chief adult probation officer for Potter, Randall and Armstrong Counties, appeared in support of a budget request for his department.

He is requesting $26,311.55 for the coming year while Randall County's contribution this year was only $15,346, an increase of about $11,000.

Col. Booch said the cost of the department is prorated on a population basis and that Randall's share is 37.1 percent of the $70,920.62 estimated cost of running the department. Potter's part is 61.6 percent or $43,687.10 and Armstrong's 1.3 percent or $921.97.

The court had asked that the cost be shared on a case load basis but Col. Booch pointed out that this would be contrary to law.

Judge Brown announced that county probationers hereafter will be charged a $10 a month fee to help defray department costs.

Jerry LaGrone of LaGrone Funeral Home asked the court to study the possibility of assisting in the cost of providing ambulance service to the area around Canyon.

LaGrone estimated that the cost of maintaining ambulance service is $17,520 a year although in answer to questions propounded by Commissioner Butler he said that some of the ambulance personnel double in working at the funeral home.

LaGrone had pointed out that it is necessary to keep two persons on duty per shift not including a person see COUNTY, page 7

Water Supply Goes Down As Vandals Strike Wells

City residents were dangerously close to a critical water shortage Sunday morning after five of the six city water wells near Umbarger were vandalized.

Some areas of town were without water for a brief period of time due to the vandalism, which caused several hundred dollars in damages to the wells.

Four men, ranging in age from 19-16, were being questioned Wednesday in connection with the vandalism.

No charges had been filed by late Wednesday. The offense could be a felony, with a penalty from 2-5 years in the state penitentiary.

The four were being questioned by Sheriff's Deputy Recil Johnson.

One man reportedly threatened to destroy the pumps about a month ago when he told City Water Department Head William Wieser the city's wells were drawing water from farmers' wells nearby.

Weiser said the five wells were turned off about 12:30 a.m. Sunday. No water was pumped into the city's underground storage tanks after that time.

"They stopped us from getting any water into town," Weiser said. "We were down to about two feet of water in the storage tanks."

"In another three or four hours, we'd have been completely out of water in town."

The five wells each feed one big line which brings water to Canyon.

Weiser discovered the vandalism about 8 a.m. Sunday when he received a complaint from Mrs. Bob Lindsey, who lives west of Canyon, that her water pressure had fallen drastically.

Weiser said he traveled on the road to the wells, about 5 miles north of Umbarger, and "met the water coming down the road."

The vandals had opened the faucets on each pump and water in the lines was turned onto open farm land.

Oil was drained from some of the pumps.

"The pumps are housed in small sheet metal structures. Locks on the structures were all broken."

Three well log books were stolen.

In addition to the damage to the locks and pumps, the vandals busted several electricity meters owned by Southwestern Public Service Co.

New WTSU Ag School To Be Dedicated Sept. 19

West Texas State University dedicates its new School of Agriculture at a giant dinner-convention Saturday night, Sept. 19.

Dr. Charles M. Smallwood, first dean of the school, said 2,500 invitations were sent agriculture leaders in the Texas Panhandle, legislators, vocational agriculture teachers, agriculture-related industries, WTSU ex-students, breed associations and university officers and faculty for the milestone affair.

A convocation highlight will be brief statements from dignitaries and guests who played an integral part in securing the new school. The Pampa Shriners will prepare and serve the barbecue dinner.

Dr. L.S. Pope, associate dean of agriculture at Texas A&M University, will open the program with a talk on "Texas Agriculture in the 1970's."

Dr. Darrel S. Metcalfe, president of the National Association of Colleges and Teachers of Agriculture and assistant director of the Arizona Agricultural Experiment Station, will speak on "Challenges in Agriculture Education."

Other remarks will be made by Dr. James P. Cornette, university president; U.S. Rep. Bob Price of Pampa, member of the House Agriculture Committee; Duane Byars of Amarillo, president of the Ex-Students Association; and Smallwood.

Pictorial exhibits of various Panhandle agriculture and a reception precede the dinner at 6:30 p.m. in the new Activities Center on campus.

Last April 20 the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System approved elevating the Department of Agriculture to separate school status with its own dean.

West Texas State is only the fourth university in the state with a separate school of agriculture. The others are Texas A&M, Texas Tech University and Texas A&I University.

The change was effective Sept. 1, almost 60 years to the month since West Texas State offered its first agriculture courses.

The university opened its doors for the first time Sept. 20, 1910. On Oct. 11 of that year, class work in agriculture began.

T.S. Minter, educated in colleges in Tennessee and a longtime farmer, taught the six courses offered. They were animal husbandry, plants, soils, insects and birds, farm economics, farm hygiene and social life of the see SCHOOL, page 7

Townsmen, Teachers To Attend CC Fete

Businessmen and teachers will have the chance to become better acquainted Saturday night at the annual banquet sponsored by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

The banquet, which is held annually for new faculty members at West Texas State University and in Canyon's public schools, is to begin at 8 p.m. in the WTSU east cafeteria.

More than 250 teachers and businessmen are expected to attend.

No program is scheduled for the banquet.

Businessmen here have invited new faculty members to be their guests at the banquet and businessmen and teachers will be introduced.

Chamber President Eddie Knowles will officially welcome the new staff members to Canyon.

Saga Food Service will cater the banquet with roast beef served buffet style.

Canyon Eagles Will Hunt Top-Ranked N.M. Wildcats

Canyon's Eagles will be starting against one of the toughest teams in New Mexico Friday night as they travel to Clovis to take on the sixth ranking Clovis Wildcats.

Game time is 7:30 mountain standard time.

It will be Canyon's season opener while the Wildcats are fresh from a 28-28 deadlock last Friday with Del Norte of Albuquerque.

Eagle Coach Dunny Goode has promised to fill the air with footballs throughout the season. The Eagles are equipped with two needle threading quarterbacks in the persons of Mike Swartzell and Chuck Wright.

Swartzell is a returning letterman who did a creditable job as Eagle field general last year and Wright, a junior, is a lad of no mean ability in tossing the pigskin.

Coach Goode said Swartzell and Wright will be swapping off on the quarterback chore this year.

Receivers for Canyon will be Mike Podzemny who is 6 foot, 2 inches tall and weighs 173 pounds and Allen Bedell, 5 foot, 11 at 160 pounds.

Goode said these boys are of average speed but are quick and make good moves. "They go after the ball," he declared.

Kicking for Canyon this year will be Edwin McBride, a boy with an educated toe. Coach Goode is counting on that toe to deliver some all-important extra points this season.

Four offense starters are back this year. These include Billy Byrd at guard; Vince Wirt, tackle; and Bedell and Swartzell.

Starting on the offense in the backfield for Canyon will be Swartzell, Wright, Cliff Prichard and John Hoover. McBride will start if the Eagles are kicking.

In the line for offense, other than the two ends, will be Larry Prichard, tackle; Randy Stark, center; Frank Garrett, guard; Billy Byrd, guard; and Vince Wirt, tackle.

Coach Goode said seven defensive starters are returning this year. They include John Lewis, John Dodson, Rick Hales, Kelly Tinsley, Frank Belcher and Jerry Carlisle and Darrell Breitling.

"Our defense has held up pretty good in scrimmage," Coach Goode noted. "It could jell into one of the best defensive teams in the country if the boys keep on working and continue to improve."

Kelly Tinsley is a standout in the defensive lineup. Coach Goode had words of praise for Tinsley's performance. "He is a good athlete and a great team man," said Goode. "He is not a selfish person and is all for the see EAGLES, page 7

Marked Improvements Noted In Buff Scrimmage

West Texas State University's football squad showed marked improvement in their second scrimmage session of fall drills Saturday afternoon in Buffalo Bowl, but the coaching staff is still concerned with mistakes.

"We are pleased with the overall development of the squad up to this point, but we have only eight practice days until our season opener in Beaumont against Lamar Tech and many mistakes must be ironed out," said head Buffalo coach Joe Kerbel Monday.

Kerbel expressed pleasure in the Buffaloes' improved passing game.

Sophomore quarterback Ed Holwig hit on 28 of 42 passes for 498 yards and five touchdowns during the three and one-half hour session. Halfback Ralph "Rocky" Thompson and split end Reynolds was cited Wednesday for his outstanding work in wildlife conservation. Region I consists of about 75 counties in West Texas.

Ed Wieck, chairman of the Randall County Soil Conservation District, presented a plaque to Reynolds for the honor.

Don Dolle of the Soil Conservation Service said the award is based on efforts to further the wildlife population. It is the first time a Randall County resident has won the award.

Reynolds, ranch manager of the Howse Ranch near Palo Duro Canyon State Park, was cited for improving the ranch productive potential and increasing the Aoudad sheep and deer populations at the same time.

Reynolds "is a conscientious rancher who believes this improvement is the key to increasing Aoudad sheep and deer on the ranch and the Palo Duro Canyon," Dolle said in his report to the Fort Worth chamber.

The report states that the Howse Ranch entered the Great Plains Conservation Program in 1965, and during the contract period the ranch controlled about 2,000 acres of mesquite for moisture conservation and to gain better plant composition of the range forage.

The ranch also installed two livestock water wells and five water storage facilities. Five ponds were constructed in the rough breaks areas in the canyon. The ponds have become a gathering place for Aoudad sheep and deer in the spring.

Reynolds states in Dolle's report that deer and the sheep come onto the ranch when cattle leave the rough

The loss of my sense of humor has begun when I begin taking myself or my generation too seriously.

Daryl Wynn tied for the receiving honors with six receptions each. Wynn picked up 77 yards and scored one touchdown, while Rocky had 179 yards and two scores.

"Ram Faleafine was a bright spot with his pass blocking and running from the fullback post," said Kerbel.

The Buffalo head coach praised the running of Rocky and Olan Thompson. Rocky dashed for 227 yards in 21 carries and tallied three times. He led all Buffaloes scoring in the scrimmage with five touchdowns, see BUFFS, page 7

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Jerry LaGrone appeared before the commissioners court and Canyon city commission recently to say that his firm can no longer absorb the cost of providing ambulance service to the community.

LaGrone pointed out that it is necessary to have two qualified people on duty around the clock to provide the service. These people cannot be just people off the streets.

They must be expert drivers trained in first aid.

LaGrone figures that it would cost a governmental sub-division of at least $32,000 a year to provide ambulance service for the community if it starts from scratch.

Although he presented no figures on ambulance income, it would be only a fraction of this amount.

Being in the funeral home business, LaGrone certainly accrues some benefit from operating the ambulance service. However, I seriously doubt that he is able to come close to breaking even although these fringe benefits are considered.

I don't think it is anymore the business of an individual to provide ambulance service at a loss to the community than it would be for the same individual to provide fire protection. As far as I'm concerned they are in the same category.

I did a survey when this matter came before the city commission in November of 1967 and found that many if not most communities in Texas with ambulance service have that service provided at least in part by some governmental sub-division.

It just may be that we'll have to go that route ourselves if we are to have the service.

The post office formerly known as Canyon, Texas now is merely 79015.

At the mid-way point I must admit that the Nixon administration is something less than a roaring success.

Inflation-We still have it and it is worsening. To make matters more difficult money is tight right in the middle of it. Things cost more and there is less money with which to buy.

Foreign policy-We are still in Viet Nam and we still are not trying to win. To the man on the street it seems that Vietnamization is so much wishful thinking. Few of us can visualize South Viet Nam really being able to defend itself.

So where does that leave our withdrawal? Where does it leave the Presidents' peace with honor?

Some may think I'm narrow minded but at the present winning the war seems the only solution. Some of our experts say this cannot be done. Others say it could be accomplished in short order.

As a layman, certainly no expert, I only see our dismal presence there and the dreary prospects of more casualty lists to come.

Mr. Nixon promised retaliation if our ships were attacked again as was the Pueblo. Since his administration began we have seen one of our aircraft destroyed by North Korea and an air liner hijacked and its passengers held hostage by Arab renegades.

So far we have seen no appropriate action to counteract this lawlessness.

Mr. Nixon's supporters can no longer plead the cause of a freshman President.

If the President is to retain the confidence of the American people he must come forward with something concrete, and soon.

In less than two years Joe Kerbel has proved himself a top-notch athletic director.

Joe has built an all-around athletic program at West Texas State University from football to tennis and even golf.

I don't think anyone would dispute that he played the major role in getting WTSU into the Missouri Valley Conference.

This year I begin my eleventh football season of following Joe and his boys around with a camera and I want to take this opportunity to wish WTSU's winningest coach luck as he begins his second decade here.

I had to smile last week when I read an editorial in the Tulia Herald in which H.M. Baggerly blasted the Amarillo newspapers for mediocrity.

I think it amusing that a man with Baggerly's limited experience should criticize the shortcomings of any newspaper. If Baggerly ever worked a news beat or served under a demanding city editor I've never heard of it.

His disciples look upon him as something of a latter day prophet and he is adored wherever liberals gather.

Prophet he may be. Newspaperman, we're not sure.

At least you can read the Amarillo newspaper and have an idea what goes on at commissioners court, school board and city hall. This is more than you can say for The Tulia Herald.

Baggerly himself once told me he doesn't cover these local happenings because he doesn't want to disrupt anything. He once branded The Canyon News as a trouble maker because we consistently staff public meetings.

Baggerly says he presents both sides of the news. While his pages are cluttered with datelines from across the nation and sometimes the world-items long since digested by dailies and news magazines-local news goes begging.

A lot of folks down Tulia way would like to see even one side of what's going on in their own community.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

People who climb the magic mountain of matrimony should take the time and trouble to learn something of the basic needs of the opposite sex. If they would do so, fewer of them would descend into the dismal dale of divorce.

Every man who marries should know at least this much about women:

A woman may not be able to live on love, but as long as she feels loved she can do without many things that cost money.

Few women are able to take criticism very well, but they are suckers for compliments, and will work their heads off for a little praise.

No woman can bear having her husband criticize her in front of her in-laws; that's always dynamite.

The man who asks "What's for dinner?" before kissing his wife is probably in for trouble.

When a wife "lets herself go," her husband has probably not made her want to

Watson Indicted

On Charge
An indictment charging murder with malice was returned on Robert C. Watson, 51, of Amarillo, who is charged with the beating death of his wife Aug. 5.

Watson gave himself up to Amarillo police Aug. 7. He led them to a field south of Amarillo where the nude and battered body of his wife was found.

Watson, an ice cream vendor, is being held under $10,000 bond in Randall County Jail.

Three other persons were indicted Tuesday.

James Green Jr., 19, and Gerald Fountain, 19, are charged with theft over $50 in connection with a shoplifting incident last week at Anthony's here.

Glenn Ray Shadix of Amarillo is charged with driving while intoxicated second offense.

look her best for him.

A woman may admire the strong silent type of man in fiction, but she wants the real one she lives with to talk to her.

It is foolish for a man to object when his wife moves the furniture around; that is as harmless a way as there is for her to work off a few frustrations and relieve tensions and monotony.

When a woman really makes up her mind to do something or get something, she will probably still be working toward her goal long after her husband has "put a stop to the nonsense."

When a woman decides to "make do" with the husband she has instead of comparing him to the prince charming she thought she married, or wondering what life would be like if she had married someone else, she is showing signs of courage and maturity. She may manifest this decision by taking her husband for granted, but isn't that more comfortable than being renovated?

Every woman who marries should know at least this much about men:

A man seldom marries a woman unless he loves her; therefore, he does not appreciate a daily interrogation on the subject.

A man usually feels that slaving all day to support his wife and children is an eloquent declaration of love, and deserving of some evidence of appreciation.

A husband wants to know that he is head of his house (a home can't survive with two heads any more than a body can). He needs obedience from his wife and children as much as they need love from him.

A woman has nothing to fear in obeying a husband who loves her.

When a wife convinces her husband that she thinks he's a big man, he usually works hard to live up to her good opinion of him.

When a man falls short of his goal for success in his work, he can still be happy as long as he feels he is a success in his home.

The way to a man's heart may not be through his stomach, but a well-fed man is usually a contented one.

The wife who serves good meals, composed of the kind of food her husband enjoys, is seldom asked for further proof of her love.

Nothing is more painful than guilt feelings. If a wife convicts her husband of guilt, he is almost sure to find some way to blame her for the whole thing.

When a man's home is his castle where he can relax in comfort, with pleasant companionship, it is not likely that he can be enticed away from it.

Labor Day the Calvary Baptist Church Youth manned a rest stop south of Canyon for travelers and served some 120 people during the period.

"This is the first time our youth have had a rest stop project," Rev. H. D. Freeman stated, "but it won't be the last."

The rest stop had about 50 cars stop and served passengers coffee, lemonade and cookies. The group plans to hold others over Holiday periods.

"I enjoyed meeting the people that stopped," Rev. Freeman reported. "They were all interesting, and a joy to serve."

The youth group's other activities have included a bike ride to the High Plains Baptist Assembly and an overnight outing at Palo Duro Canyon.

WT Netters Win Meet

Two ace West Texas State University tennis players netted major wins last weekend in the Tri-State Tennis Tournament in Amarillo.

Leo Estopare, number one scrapper for the Buffs, came out on top when he beat his teammate Paul Tobin for the men's singles title.

Estopare and Tobin teamed later in the tournament to defeat the defending men's doubles champions David Kent and Roland Ingram.

Kent is the Buffalo tennis coach.

Two other Buffs fared well in the tennis action.

Freshman Dale Corbin of Wichita Falls whipped a teammate, Joe Carrick of El Paso to win the boy's 18 singles title.

The boys will all come back as a team on Sept. 14 when they travel to Borger to help dedicate a new tennis court complex adjacent Borger High School.

Estopare and Tobin are slated for an exhibition match during the ceremonies.

The challenge of being the only.

As any wise husband knows, no woman likes to be taken for granted. It's the little things that count, like remembering anniversaries, or bringing home flowers, for no particular reason.

Like the wise husband we try not to take you, our customer, for granted. Being the only phone company in town, we make a special effort to be courteous, kind, considerate, and understanding.

The fact that we are the only phone company in town is a challenge. The challenge is "not to act like it."

Exes Attract Many Foreigners To University

BY CAROL CRAIN

Ex-students from all over the world have been the chief reason that international students have made their way from the Philippines, South America, Taiwan, and other foreign lands to get an advanced education in the Panhandle of Texas.

They have come from Latvia, Japan, Panama, France, Thailand, the Netherlands, and Hong Kong.

Donald Cates, WTSU registrar, attributes the significance of the ex-students effectiveness to the fact that the West Texas State is a midcontinent university. The internationals that come here already know about WT before they make their decision to enroll.

"Internationals hear about the schools on the East or West coast a lot more than they do about ones the same size inland," Cates pointed out.

"I heard about WT from one of my commanding officers who had been in ROTC here," Angel Hurtado from Peru said. "I met lots of people from this area in the Army... because there's lots of ROTC here."

"I spoke very little English when I arrived in the U.S...but the Army changed that," he reported, and some other things, too, he indicated.

As soon as Hurtado was released from the Army in 1967 he enrolled at WTSU.

"I like West Texas, the people are friendly and we have good personnel...even if they give you a W or F or X," he laughed, "they still keep good relationships with their students."

Hurtado flew into the United States in 1964 after graduating from high school in Peru. Having immigrant status, Hurtado was drafted into the U.S. Army and served for two years, never going overseas.

Last year the senior saw a need for an organization that would try to reach all internationals and, with the help of Dr. Edward Schmutz, government instructor, Prabhakar Gaitonde of India; and Peter Jeschofnig of Austria, a club was formed in the fall.

A constitution was adopted under the name of "WTSU Foreign Students Association." The organization now has about 30 active members, according to Hurtado.

"The purpose of the association is to promote better understanding among all students in the initial phase of their enrollment and thereafter until they get used to their new environment," Hurtado, now president of the organization, stated.

Some of the club members were interviewed to get their impressions of West Texas, and their answers were, for the most part, as different as their cultures.

Christina Wong, a graduate student from Taiwan, stated that "my piano teacher was an ex-student of West Texas." With her help, Miss Wong received a scholarship in Applied Music from WT.

"I like West Texas pretty good," Miss Wong, who has been in this country only 3 months, stated. "It is so hot and dry here," she noted. "In Taiwan it is very humid and rainy, and I miss that."

Like other internationals interviewed, Miss Wong plans to return to her native land for a visit when she can afford it.

"Each trip costs about $500.00," she said.

Barbara Dickerson, daughter of a missionary pilot in Columbia, left America when she was 4 years old.

"Things are so different here," Miss Dickerson reported. "Life moves so much faster than in Columbia and everyone seems to be in such a rush."

"In Columbia the kids don't have cars; they either walk or take the bus," she reported.

"We've always spoken English in our home, so that part of coming back has been easier for me than most of the other students."

"The kids here are swell and very friendly," she said, but admitted that she's "just dying to meet some other students from South America."

The weather took a bit of getting used to, Miss Dickerson indicated. I live near the equator, but it's in the mountains where the weather stays about 70 or 80 degrees year round.

"I haven't been through a big snow here, and I'm looking forward to one," she said.

"My aunt, Sherry McDowell, lives in Canyon, and she attended WT. It was my first choice... I didn't even apply to any other school," she stated.

Kitipot Charnveja of Thailand has been in this country for two years and is majoring in Accounting. Miss Charnveja likes WT "fine."

"People here are friendly to me...everybody kind...like Thai people," Miss Charnveja explained.

"My English very poor," she continued, "but people are kind when they can't understand me...I try to explain."

The graduate student also said that she "must study hard... try to read and listen... it is hard."

Miss Charnveja takes two classes on Tuesday and Thursday, but is taking no credit, simply reviewing courses from her B.S.

Grass Acreage Burns

About 400 acres of dry grassland was burned about 4 p.m. Monday southeast of Canyon.

The grass fire was set when a station wagon, which had caught fire, was driven into a barrow ditch adjacent the field.

The land is owned by Herbert Kuhlman nine miles southeast of Canyon on Washington Street.

A station wagon driven by Wayne Igo of Plainview was also damaged.

Six units of the Canyon Fire Department fought the blazes until about 630 p.m.

CHS Class Will Build House In City

BY TROY MARTIN

For the first time this year Canyon High School is offering a course in building trades under the tutelage of veteran builder Harold Hagemeyer.

Thirty boys have enrolled in the course which is taught in a building on the west side of the square. The building was formerly occupied by Western Auto Store.

Hagemeyer has a degree in architecture from Texas A&M and has about 40 hours in industrial arts at West Texas State University.

"This is one of the most enthusiastic classes I have ever taught," Hagemeyer declared this week. The group is split into morning and afternoon sessions. Each session holds for three hours.

The boys involved continue to work toward high school diplomas. The instructor explained that only juniors and seniors are eligible for the course and usually they have already completed most of their required subjects.

At present the boys are building shelving for store rooms at the new junior high school building.

"We hope to be able to start a house here in Canyon somewhere next month," Hagemeyer explained. He said his class may contract with an owner who will finance the building.

He said there would be no charge for labor on such a project but the owner will be expected to contribute about 10 percent of the material cost to a fund to replace tools for the department.

"If we don't go into contract with an owner the school may build a house and sell it," he said. "However, that has to come from higher authority than me."

Hagemeyer said Canyon is one of the last schools in the area to begin a building trades class. He said the class operates on the same basis as vocational agriculture.

He pointed to many benefits for the student. He learns to use the tools of the construction trade and acquires some knowledge of house building, electrical wiring, painting and plumbing.

If he does not choose to go to college he can go to work in the construction business as at least a second year apprentice and draw good wages.

"It should help the student who does go to college," Hagemeyer went on. "He will be able to make home repairs when he has a family and he will know what to expect when he lets a contract to a builder."

Hagemeyer said he tries to simulate actual construction work in his class room. Jobs are completed under the watchful eyes of a superintendent and foreman.

This will acquaint the boys with what an actual construction job is like, he declared.

Bicycle Brigade Practices Street Safety, Regulations

BY KAYSEE MARTIN

Safety precautions are all fun and games when the "Bicycle Brigade" of Pioneer Estates get together to ride bikes. There are about ten kids in the group.

It all started one day when someone came up with the idea of playing a new game. The procedure for the game is as follows:

First, someone has to be the "Cop." He watches the other bike riders to make sure that no rules are broken. The rules are:

1. No wheelies.
2. No skidding or speeding.
3. Never ride in the street unless you're just crossing.
4. Never ride down the curb.
5. No blocking of traffic.

6. Never sass an officer.

The first two illegalities are taken care of with warning tickets. After that, two tickets. When a kid has accumulated two warnings and two tickets, it's off to jail with him. However, he has a choice of prisons. He can go to the Swatzell Jail (Phil Swatzell) or the Robinson Jail (Mrs. Morris Jean Robinson). When four or five more law-breakers are hauled in, they're all set free and the first one who entered the jail has to be the "Cop."

Being a "Cop" has its advantages. For instance, he gets his choice of any available bike. Also, he is exempt from all the rules. If he wants to do a wheelie, or speed, etc., he gets by with it.

The parents seem to approve of the game because it keeps the kids safe and out of the streets.

The riders who participate in the game are Lisa Swatzell; Dan Gerald; John Gidry; Stacy Lyles; Melinda Jones; Barry Brim; Bret Fassauer; Brad Brooks; and Glenda and Dale Robinson.

Cam-Vets Get Organized, Plan Member Campaign

About 30 persons met Monday night to form the nucleus of this year's Cam-Vets organization on the West Texas State University campus.

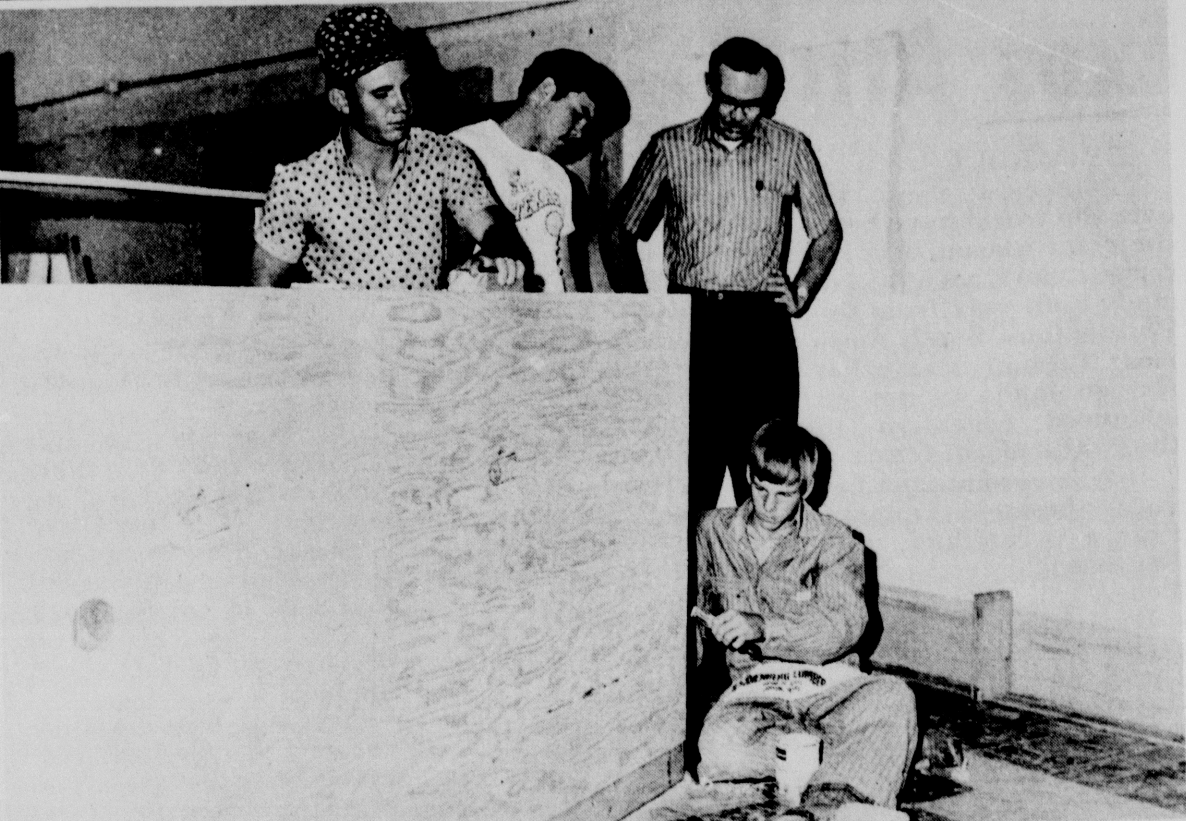

President John Roberts of Amarillo said a membership drive will be launched Monday on campus.

Information tables will be set up in the Student Union Building to attract new members.

Veterans of any service are eligible to join the group.

Wayne Matthews was elected secretary-treasurer of the club Monday.

In other business, the Cam-Vets talked over plans for the coming year, money-raising projects and other drives.

SPEED READING CLASSES SET FOR CANYON

One Million Words? In a Single Week? Can YOU handle that?

Yet, if you are a student or an average person in a position of average responsibility you are expected to read up to, and in many cases even more than, one million words in a single week. Think of the flood of printed material you must cope with daily. There is more and more material in print every day — and more and more people, including you, have read it.

How rapidly DO you read? And more importantly, how well do you understand and retain what you have read? Is it a chore for you to read a book? Do you back-track repeatedly? Let your mind wander to other things? Silently pronounce words to yourself as you read? If you do any of these, chances are that you not only need but would profit greatly from the Speed Reading Academy's course in Rapid Reading which is set for Canyon.

Mr. Wayne D. Scott, SRA president, said arrangements have been made to offer SRA's exclusive 7-week, 21-hour Rapid Reading course to a limited number of students in Canyon.

The course is designed primarily for the college-bound high school student, the college student and professional — but anyone over 13 years of age of average intelligence and without visual weaknesses can quickly master the speed reading techniques of the S.R.A. Method.

The average college student today reads anywhere from 150 to 250 words per minute, retaining about 50 per cent or less of what they have read. Mr. Scott said, "We guarantee that you can learn to read 1,000 words per minute, or more, with better comprehension, retention and enjoyment or your tuition will be refunded."

Thousands of people who have completed the course have an average reading speed of 2,000 words per minute, with 80 per cent or better comprehension. In order to enroll in the course — you must attend one of the free orientation lectures mentioned below and the reading counselor will explain the course in detail — and give you a brief reading test to determine your present reading speed and comprehension.

Most people are shocked to find how slowly they actually read and how low their rate of comprehension really is. How do YOU rate as a reader?

Students enrolling will be required to attend one class per week for seven weeks.

Classes are limited to twenty students — and class places will be filled on a first come, first served basis.

A series of one hour orientation lectures to acquaint interested persons will be held in Canyon.

MEETINGS WILL BE HELD

Sept. 10 — 2:30 p.m. Sept. 11 — 7:30 p.m.

Woody Pond Can Do The Job

Is he Experienced? ---
Woody's been a county judge and he's now juvenile probation officer.

Why Does he want the job? ---
Woody believes he can serve the people of Randall County with an eye to economy and another to the future.

Doesn't he have to be a lawyer? ---
No, according to the state constitution.

Shouldn't
Your Vote
Be For Woody Pond?

As a Democratic candidate for the office of Randall County judge, I have been asked many times why I seek the seat. There are two important reasons. One, I see a need for a county judge who has been a resident of the county for a number of years and knows the people of Randall County and their desires. Second, I see a need for a county judge well versed in state laws pertaining to juveniles. I have served this county as juvenile probation officer a number of years. I know the young people of this area and I feel I can serve their needs as well as those of their parents.

Another important question raised during this campaign is simply this: Must a county judge be an attorney? The answer is no. Article 5, Section 15 of Vernon's Constitution of the State of Texas says:

INTERPRETIVE COMMENTARY
The constitution declares that county judges "shall be well informed in the law of the state." As a matter of practical politics, this means that no formal study of law nor a license to practice law is required as a part of the qualifications of a county judge.

Equally as important as my work here as juvenile probation officer has been my previous experience as a county judge. For two terms, I served on the bench of Roberts County.

Through my experience as a county judge, I have learned the law in relation to probate cases. Many people have asked me if a law degree isn't necessary to handle probate cases. Daily across the State of Texas, county judges without law degrees make competent decisions. Two fine examples of county judge who didn't have law degrees are the late Honorable Bill Adams of Potter County and the Honorable Clarence Williams of Carson County.

As the campaign here draws to a close, I can look back on many pleasant experiences. I foresee many more in the weeks to come before the election. I firmly believe the finest people in the world live in Randall County and on the Golden Spread. Don't you agree?

Please cast your vote in the Nov. 3 general election.

Thanks,
Woody Pond

Buff Opponents Prepare With New Players

West Texas State University's football opponents this fall endured sour seasons last year, but almost all of them have made major revisions in an effort to stage healthy comebacks this year.

The Buffaloes meet 10 opponents, six of them on the home field.

West Texas finished the season last year boasting a 6-4 record, a better standard than eight of their 1970 opposition teams.

But, the Buffs didn't play some of the teams the opponents played last fall.

Even so, the fight-back-on-top spirit is in the air for many of the Buffalo opponents.

Lamar Tech Cardinals, who meet the Buffs at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 19 in Beaumont, will be working hard to improve on last year's 3-7 record.

The Cardinals return 26 break areas.

"Since the sheep are on his ranch, he encourages them to stay by keeping about 50 32-percent protein blocks out the year round," Dolle states. "Roy says that before he started supplementing the sheep he had only a few ewes on the ranch, but this year he has many ewes and a good lamb crop. Deer have also made a comparable gain."

Dolle also reported Reynolds' efforts to help hunters of both deer and Aoudad sheep.

Reynolds has been on the Jowse Ranch 26 years.

men from last fall's team and they no doubt will try double hard to outdo their former record.

Going into this season, the Cardinals have had trouble filling gaps in their offensive line. Just recently, injuries have hurt the defensive line. Six lettermen make up the defense and the offense is also seasoned with lettermen at each berth except tight end and tailback.

Two men the Buffs will be watching on offense are Glen and Clinton Hill, a pair of running backs who are said to have quickness, speed and ability.

"We think the Hill boys are as good a pair of backs as we've had in some time for their size," says Lamar Tech coach Vernon Glass. "We can already tell the difference in our running game because they both hit the hole quick and then just scatter like a covey of quail."

Wichita State's Shockers also boast a premier back in Randy Jackson.

Jackson is one of 22 returning lettermen from a 1969 team which saw Wichita State win just two of 10 games.

Last year's Shockers lost 24-14 to the Buffs. They meet again this fall at 8 p.m. Sept. 26 in Buffalo Bowl.

The Shockers are touted as having quality sophomores and several key players returning.

The East Carolina Pirates, WTSU's third opponent this season, come from a 2-7 record last year to this fall with a new coach, new staff and new offense.

Mike McGee, new mentor for the Pirates, will move his team from a basic pro-set offense, with the Pirates employing either the pro-T or pro-I formations. The key to the pro-type offense will be East Carolina's quarterback, John Casazza, a top passer for Chowan Junior College the past two years.

The Pirates are expected to throw the ball this year as they battle for improvement.

East Carolina and West Texas have met only once in 1967 when the Buffs clouted them 37-13.

Twenty-six lettermen return, including five starters. But, the Pirates will be weak in experience in their offensive backfield.

The Buffs meet the Pirates at 8 p.m. Oct. 3 in Canyon.

West Texas will face a strong ground game on Oct. 10, when they travel to DeKalb, Ill., for a bout with the Northern Illinois Huskies.

John LaLonde, an honorable mention All-American last year, is back. Also back are three outstanding two-year offensive veterans, tackle Dave Weisendanger, split end Tom Bastable and center Mike Batina.

Springing from a 3-7 season last year, Coach Doc

Bufs...

Olan, who saw limited duty because of a leg injury, rushed four times for 63 yards and scored two times. Faleafine had 195 yards in 14 carries and Doyle Miller picked up 94 yards on four carries.

Kerbel was elated over the Buffalo kicking game. John Grigsby punted seven times for a 40.7-yard average, while Jim Albracht and Matias Garza were impressive with their placement kicking. Albracht boomed two 51-yard field goal efforts true and Garza was accurate on one of the same distance.

"Our coverage for the kicking game was improved over that of the first scrimmage," said Kerbel.

Both Kerbel and offensive line coach Jack "Sleepy" Harris had words of praise for guard Gary Ruston. The San Antonio sophomore was filling in for regular guard Reginald Bassett and turned in the highest grade for the scrimmage among the offensive linemen, an 83. Bassett had a tooth pulled Friday and was held out of Saturday's action.

Senior center Jerry Cryer had the second highest grade among the offensive linemen, an 80.

Defensive line coach Joe Granato praised the work of Hereford senior Rick Fangman, who has been playing tackle this fall. He started at guard last year. Fangman has been backing up both Stan Hansen and Alex Davis at the tackle berths.

The Buffaloes will scrimmage again Saturday prior to their opener Sept. 19 in Beaumont.

The Buffs came through Saturday's scrimmage without any major injuries.

Tinsley is a 202 pound senior. Starting defensive backs for Canyon will be Kenny Jones, Jeff Gunter, Frank Belcher and Jerry Carlisle. The defensive line will be made up of John Lewis, John Dodson, Rick Hales, Darrell Breitling, Van James, Kelly Tinsley and James Boyce.

The team has already been plagued with injuries. Teddy Trice and Randall Smith are laid up with knee injuries and Robert Bull, who underwent surgery of the knee, probably will not play this season at all.

The Eagles will deploy from a T formation on offense again this year while the Wildcats alternate between a full house backfield and a slot "I".

Randy Hatley, the Wildcat quarterback, is described as a fair passer. The top cat running back is Ronnie Williams. Though he is not really fast he is quick and has good movement. He gained 134 yards against Del Norte last week.

Tentative Cat starters include Ronnie Hubby, Williams, Pat Miner and Hatley in the backfield.

Carroll Moberly is split end and Bob Brock plays tight end.

Tackles are Harry Heflin at 220 pounds and Jim Brandon at 170. Guards are Pat Lyons at 160 and Pat Burns at 170. Center is Buddy Hubby who weighs 150 pounds. Lyons is the only offensive player who is not a letterman.

This is Coach Rex Herrington's first year as head coach since being moved from an assistant's berth. Since he tied his opener with Del Norte he will be trying to put his first win in the record book when his Wildcats meet the Eagles at Clovis Friday night.

Urich was faced with the big job of replacing 17 lettermen. He has 22 lettermen returning, including 15 regulars.

"We will have to work extremely hard on defense," Urich said. "You can't afford to give up 28 points a game (last year's average) and hope to win very often against the caliber of teams we are playing this year."

The Buffs whipped the Huskies 22-7 last year.

North Texas State's Mean Green, are indeed that. Of the 60 players on the tentative roster, only 23 have ever been fitted for game dress.

In the beginning, agriculture was offered over a two-year period and did not become a four-year bachelor's degree granting program until 1917.

Not until 1922 when the American Association of Teacher Colleges gave the school accreditation, did the department of agriculture grow. That same year 30 acres of land adjoining the campus was purchased for $5,800 for dairy and experimental use. Four years later the T-Anchor Ranch, a 200-acre spread, was approved for purchase at $13,000 by the fortieth legislature.

Frank H. Ives was department head then, but he was succeeded by his assistant in the vocational high school Frank Phillips in 1924. The "Phillips Era" lasted nearly 30 years; in 1952 Phillips retired and Dr. Melvin R. Calliham, presently head of the Veterinary Medicine and Surgery Department at Texas A&M, took over his duties.

Dr. Smallwood, 44, left Murray State Agricultural College, Tishomingo, Okla., in 1958 to become department head at West Texas.

A native of Red Oak, Okla., Smallwood received a bachelor of science degree from Oklahoma State University and a master of science and a doctor of philosophy from Texas A&M.

He was county agricultural agent with the Oklahoma State University Extension Service from 1950-54.

Smallwood was named "Man of the Year in Agriculture" for outstanding service by the Texas County Agriculture Agents Association in 1968.

In his first year as department head, Smallwood had 105 agriculture majors and 265 students enrolled in agriculture courses. In 1969 the number of agriculture majors had grown to 485 and number of students taking courses had reached 1106. This fall the school of agriculture enrolled 510 majors and 1200 students studying some phase of agriculture. In 1972 Smallwood believes the number will reach 700.

Tax Board To Meet

The city board of equalization will meet with about 12 property owners later this month to try to determine the fair market value of their property.

The meeting has tentatively been set for Sept. 21.

The property-vacant buildings-to be eyed by the board was given 25 per cent decreases in taxes last April.

The board has since come under criticism from the city commission for giving the blanket tax break.

Last week, the board met and decided to review the property in question to determine fair market value.

Mrs. Fontella Clodfelter, deputy tax assessor-collector, said the meeting Sept. 21 will be open only to those who receive letters from the city concerning their property.

Mrs. Clodfelter, Dan True, city tax consultant, and Howard Northcutt, city manager, plan to look over the controversial vacant properties to determine fair market values prior to the meeting.

Nineteen of those 23 are lettermen with eight of them returning from starting berths.

The Buffs will be eyeing a new offense and defense when North Texas takes the field on Oct. 17 in Canyon.

With the loss of Steve Ramsey at quarterback, the Eagles are still undetermined on a field general. New faces will be at both running back positions, both wide receivers and tight end.

Defensive back Leonard Dunlap is a strong point for the Eagles. He is a good candidate for All-America honors.

A perennially tough team, New Mexico State's Aggies, will meet the Buffs on home territory on Oct. 24.

The Aggies return 13 starting lettermen from last fall's team, which lost to the Buffs by just one point, and came out with a 5-5 record.

Ron (Po) James, a veteran, will return to lead the veteran Aggie backfield. Quarterback Rhett Putman has veteran receivers for his bombs. He is considered a capable quarterback.

Another team returning to the Buff schedule this year with a split record is the University of Texas at Arlington.

The Buffs clipped the Rebels 41-7 last fall, but must prepare for a stronger running attack this year.

Twelve starting lettermen return to aid the Rebels, including veteran Dave Taylor at quarterback. Even with a veteran quarterback, the Rebels are weak at the offensive back positions and lack experience in their defensive line.

West Texas spars the Rebels Oct. 32 in Arlington.

The Broncos of Western Michigan are another team the Buffs rapped last season. They ended up with a 4-6 record after losing to West Texas 28-20.

This year they meet on Nov. 7 in Canyon.

The Bronc attack will be led by veteran quarterback Ted Grignon, who is a talented runner and passer. Halfback Bob Ezelle and fullback Roger Lawson average aged 4.4 and 5.3 yards per carry last fall and looked even better in practice.

Coach Bill Doolittle looks for his team to have more experience.

Defensively, the Broncos are not hurting for experience, as their linebackers return.

The Bowling Green Falcons will be looking to 1970 as their 16th winning season. They managed a 6-4 record last fall, while losing 28-12 to the Buffaloes. The two meet this year on Nov. 21 in Bowling Green.

Eighteen lettermen and 11 returning starters are back from last year's club.

Coach Don Nehlen sees another successful season even though he admits the success will depend to a great extent on sophomores.

One strong point on the Falcons will be the return of veteran quarterback Vern Wireman, who led the Mid-American Conference last year in passing.

Nehlen sees running backs Jerry Fields, Isaac Wright and Julius Livas as the best running corps at Bowling Green since 1966. The defense is led by quick defensive end Phil Cillapiano, an All-American candidate.

The Buffs will wrap up their season with a revenge contest against the University of Southern Mississippi. The Southerners edged West Texas 10-9 last season, on their way to a 4-6 season.

Coach Bear Underwood expects a quicker and more versatile offense. He has lost only three starters. Rick Donegan, a good passer, returns as quarterback and he will have some strong receivers returning.

The backfield will be bolstered by Larry Moulton, rushing leader for the Southerners two years. Willie Heidelberg, touted as the best back in Mississippi junior colleges, will be behind Moulton at the half-back slot. Junior fullback Ed Soberoski returns at that spot.

The story changes on defense as the Southerners lost eight starters. Returning are linebackers Bill Davis and Dickey Surace and halfback Craig Logan. Logan is the only experienced player in the defensive backfield, but Underwood said sophomores have proved their tenacity in taking up the slack.

The Buffs meet Southern Mississippi in their final game Nov. 21 in Canyon.

Ward Sons Follow Steps Of Artistic Father

Stepping into the boot tracks of one top-notch Western artist might be a bit of a strain for some youngsters, but not for the sons of Jim Ward.

The two, Gary, a sixth grader at Rex Reeves Elementary and Jimmy, an eighth grade football player at Canyon Junior High, started a summer craft art project and now have more orders than they know what to do with, following the path of their successful father.

After watching their father sketch, paint, sculpture and now his new skill of bronze casting, the two decided to try their hand at something similar. Taking only the first elementary stages of the bronze casting, that of clay sculpturing and the making of a rubber mold, Jimmy designed an ashtray with cow skull atop it and Gary, a statue of the WT buffalo.

Jim Ward believes that a family should take an interest in each other and 'work together on this.' His 'whole approach' to family life is that way.

Ward has worked with the youngsters as long as they can remember, first in painting with oils and acrylics and now sculpturing. Gary wants to make art his career, Jimmy prefers physical education.

The molding process is easy to them now, once the clay sculpture is in final form, liquid rubber is poured around the image and a catalytic reaction takes place.

The rubber mold, after it 'sets up' can then be used to make multiple molding plaster casting of the sculpture before it deteriorates.

After the sculpture dries each piece is painted with gold, then with burnt umber oil paint to give it a bronze cast. The item is then painted with shellac. Felt is glued to the bottom on the finished piece before it is taken to be sold. Each sculpture is sold for $5, this is perhaps the least expensive item in the "Ward line". Ward gets up to $750.00 for one of his bronzes.

The sculptures the Ward boys have been making are both being sold at the WT college bookstore, the High Plains Gallery in Amarillo, and Jimmy's buffalo will sell in the Teepee Western Store. Many orders are taken through their home.

Jimmy already has over $125.00 from sales and is purchasing a saddle from Gary plus a new registered Quarter Horse. Gary has made over $75 from sales and keeps his money in the bank. Both have already won artist awards for other media over the years and both are members of the Tee Anchor 4-H Club.

The family moved to Canyon from Muleshoe five years ago and live on a 35-acre plot 3 miles south of Canyon, where they keep five horses for pleasure riding.

Jackie teaches school in Amarillo and Mary Beth is a sophomore at Canyon High School.

Ice Cream For CYF

The CYF ice cream supper held Sunday at the First Christian Church netted $97 for the victims of Hurricane Celia in Corpus Christi.

The entire project was done by the youth. Ten gallons of ice cream, numerous cookies and cakes were consumed before 8:30 p.m.

"It is an encouraging note to know that you youth are leading the way in showing concern for their brother. This is indeed Christianity in action," Rev. Ivan Adams stated.

The money, taken in donations at the door, will now be sent to Christian Church state office for distribution in Corpus Christi.

Dress Code Is Upheld In Court

Canyon High School's dress code has been indirectly upheld through the ruling of a federal district judge in Lubbock.

Judge Halbert O. Woodward ruled Tuesday morning in favor of the Pampa School dress code, regulations which are very similar to those used at Canyon High.

The judge denied a request for an injunction asked by Dr. Wilber R. Whitsell Jr. of Pampa.

Dr. Whitsell asked the injunction after his son, Jon, a student at Pampa High, was sent home for having long hair.

The Pampa dress code restricts hair from falling below the collar. Canyon's code likewise prohibits long hair.

Dist. Atty. George Dowlen had said last week that if Judge Woodward ruled in favor of Whitsell, the ruling would, in effect, jeopardize Canyon's code.

He said if the school board had been overruled on the action, Canyon might be open to a similar suit.

The suit was heard Friday. Canyon's code calls for hair "trimmed so as not to extend over the eyebrows or ears."

"It should not curl in the back due to excessive length, or extend over the shirt collar. Boys must be clean shaven with sideburns straight and not longer than the bottom of the ear."

Randall Burton and Mike Shadix teamed up to win the low ball partnership Labor Day golf tournament Monday at the Canyon City Club.

Their score was 60. Bill and Ernestine Harp placed second with 63 and Theda and Ray Carnahan were third with 64. Twenty teams entered.

A covered dish dinner followed the tournament.

Mrs. Glynn David Burrell

Yancey Weds Burrell

Janiece Yancey beame the bride of Glynn David Burrell in a double ring ceremony Sept. 3 at the Southlawn Church of Christ in Amarillo.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Carroll Pittman of Long Beach, California.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glynn Burrell of Canyon.

Foy W. Shackelford, elder of the Southwest Amarillo Church of Christ, officiated the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length formal gown of ivory silk peau de soie and chantilly lace. The gown was fashioned with an empire waist, scoop neckline and elbow length sleeves. A chapel train fell from the waist.

A cluster of roses formed the bridal coif, and ivory illusion cascaded to the shoulders. The bride carried a free form bouquet of stephanotis.

Matron of Honor was Mrs. Edwin Bryan of Happy and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Mike Bahn and Penny Marie Morton, both of Amarillo.

John Andrew Burrell, brother of the groom, served as best man; Mike Bahn and Cornell Carroll were groomsmen.

Aisle candles lined the bride's path to the altar which was flanked by twin spiral candelabras. The ceremony took place under an arch of greenery.

A reception followed in Fellowship Hall.

After a trip to Virginia the couple will be at home in Norfolk.

CHEVY'S NEW LITTLE CAR IS OPEN FOR BUSINESS.

We call it Vega. We also call it "the little car that does everything well." Because it does.

Everything? Everything. Vega moves well, stops well, steers well, rides well, handles well, responds well, passes well, travels well, parks well, wears well, and is priced well under what you'd expect to pay for such a talented little car.

In our highway tests, Vega has been getting gas mileage in the neighborhood of the little imports, which isn't a bad neighborhood.

Yet unlike your average little car, ours steps right out when you step on the gas.

The engine is a specially designed overhead cam four with a lightweight aluminum alloy block. It turns slowly and quietly at turnpike speeds, with power to spare.

Disc brakes are standard in the front. So are bucket seats, except on the truck.

How we doing so far?

Numbers speak louder than words. The wheelbase is 97 inches. Total length is just under 170 inches, or nearly four feet shorter than a full-size Chevrolet.

Height of the coupe is just 50 inches, nine inches lower than the leading import.

Width: a nice stable 5 1/2 feet. Weight: 2,190 lbs. for the sedan. Engine displacement: 140 cubic inches.

Fuel economy: about 25 mpg, with the standard engine and transmission, in our highway tests.

Horsepower: 90. You can order 110. (80 and 93 hp, SAE Net.) Seating capacity: 4 adults.

What it all adds up to is a lot of little car.

Three cars and a truck. Vega turned out so well that we couldn't turn out just one.

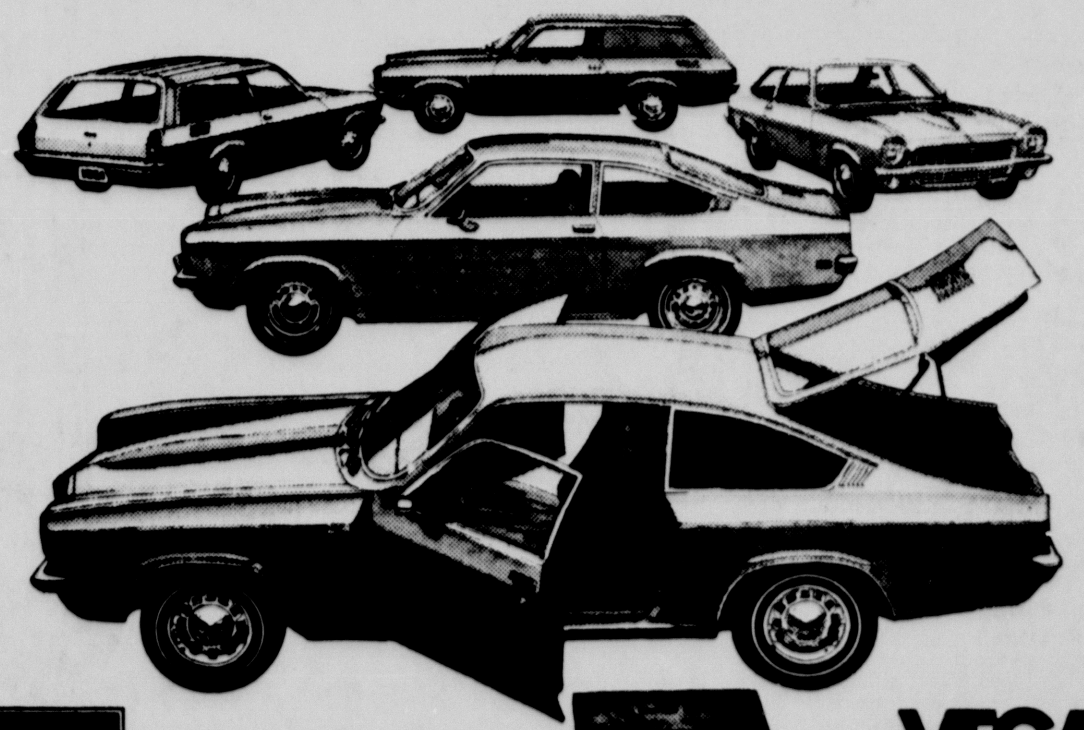

So we're turning out four: the sporty little hatchback coupe shown open and closed in the foreground below; the sedan, on the right; the Kamback wagon, on the left; and the little panel truck, in the rear.

Oh, and a special GT version of the coupe and wagon which we'll show you later on.

September 10th is Opening Day.

All 6,300 Chevrolet dealers are handling Vega, so you shouldn't have to go very far to see and drive one.

Chevy's new little car is open for business. Look into it.

Landscaping On Campus Is Big Job

Flower-lined sidewalks, landscaped buildings accented with shrubs and elm trees, park benches scattered among red oak, and weeping willow trees, dot the 110 acres of campus at West Texas State University.

The grounds maintenance crews hold the responsibility for the care and upkeep of the lands. Usually employing 15 in the winter and 20 in the summer, these men are under the supervision of John T. Boone, director of the physical plant.

Grounds foreman is R.M. Cole under whose supervision the crews take care of watering, pruning and planting of flowers, as well as spraying for insects, mowing and trash removal.

With the 110 acres divided into seven areas for maintenance, one man is assigned to each area permanently with the others floating from one area to another.

"The first thing in the morning is to turn on the water and begin picking up trash, with edging and trimming following," Boone said.

There is only one man assigned to the tractor mower which is used to cover large-scale areas of the campus. Other personnel use 20-inch lawn mowers.

Besides maintenance, the grounds office is usually involved in construction of landscaped facilities. At present one major project is about to begin. This will consist of planting grass and small elm trees around the perimeter of the new tennis courts located in the northeast section of the campus.

Approximately 200 trees were planted last fall in the vicinity of the University Complex South, intramural fields, and the state-owned residence of Dr. James P. Cornette, university president.

"Any type of sprinkler system you can name is being used on these grounds," Boone said.

The latest to be installed was earlier this year at the new Activities Center. This sprinkler operates automatically as does another of this type on the grounds of the UCS.

These sprinkler systems water primarily three varieties of grass from Bermuda, which is the most proficient for this area to perennial type for fast cover, to blue grass, used primarily on the University Complex lawns.

Although the majority of landscaping is projected by a committee which meets once a month, outside assistance is received. The $3.3 million Activities Center was landscaped by Love & Sons of Amarillo while the inside landscaping of the three story complex was created by H. R. Fulton of Canyon.

The university has problems maintaining the lawns & shrubs just as most home gardeners do. This past summer major problems have been the elm leaf beetle and blight on the broad leaf evergreen.

Maintaining the grounds means more than just caring for the upkeep of trees, grass and shrubs.

Flowers are planted in early April with bulbs being dug in October after freezing, and kept in a special greenhouse used for the physical plant as well as the School of Agriculture.

Money for the school grounds is included in state appropriated funds.

Tending to some of the most beautiful trees in the Texas Panhandle is only part of the big job of lawn care and gardening of the 110 acres making up the main campus
